

The Pain I Put Away

By Griff Sanford

(Capo 3)

Verse 1

C
It's been years since it has happened
Em
It's been years since you've been gone
F Am
There's no coming back, I know it
G
But I thought I'd moved along
F G
This morning when I woke up
Am
I'd been dreaming of your voice
F
I didn't think I'd hurt this much
I didn't have a choice

Pre-Chorus 1

Em Am
I guess there's still some grieving that I have to do
Em Am
I guess there's still some pain I put away
Em Am
No idea why it's now it's breaking through
F G
I think I need to find a way to say (how much)

Chorus 1

C Am
I miss you, I miss you
F G
I miss our talks, I miss our laughter
C Am
I miss you, I miss you

F G
Every single day
F G
The world has moved along now
Am
And I'm stuck here in the after
F
I miss you more
G Am
Than words can ever say

Verse 2

I can see it clear as crystal
That endless final day
I tried so hard to let you go
I begged for you to stay
The next day I was crying
And then I thought I was done
'Cause inside I might be dying
But I'd show that pain to none

Pre-Chorus 2

I guess there's still some grieving that I have to do
I thought that I was done with tears and pain
No idea why it's now it's breaking through
It feels like I am opening a vein (to say)

Chorus 2

I miss you, I miss you
I miss your smile, I miss your singing
I miss you, I miss you
Every single day
The world is done with all my grief
But in my head the bells are ringing
I miss you more
Than words can ever say

Bridge

Em Am
There's always one more thing to say we didn't say
Em Am
Always something we forgot to show
Em Am
I'm thinking of them always, every single day
F G
But I can never say them to you, no

Verse 3

And this song will never reach you
I'm singing it alone
Forgetting that you've left me
I still pick up the phone
Thinking I'll just call you
And we'll have a little chat
And then I put it down again
Realizing that

Pre-Chorus 1

Chorus 1

Outtro

The world has moved along now
And I'm stuck here in the after
I miss you more
Than words can ever say

I miss you more
G C
Than words can ever say
